Meet Micah Fialka-Feldman, a man who knows what he wants. In many ways, the 21-year-old student enjoys a typical life: making friends, participating in college activities, and volunteering in the community and in politics. Less typically, he travels the country speaking. But for all of his life, there have been people telling him that he could not have a regular life.

Micah has a cognitive disability.

This inspiring film documents the new movement of fully inclusive education by exploring Micah's desire for a life without boundaries. As a high school student, Micah wanted the college experience, and he got it. See how it's done, learn how it works, and witness how Micah's journey challenges us all to reexamine what we believe possible.

"This video shows us living, breathing inclusion in action. A must-see for all students, teachers, and parents. I plan to show it to all of the future teachers in my courses to deepen their commitment to inclusion. Thank you for making this film. We all need it."
